FROM THE PRINCIPAL

CRANBOURNE EAST – LEADERS
I congratulate the SRC and Forum leaders from Cranbourne East for 2013. These students elected by their peers will take on the responsibilities of student leadership at the East Campus following in the footsteps of our Patron Saint Peter. As the senior leaders in our year 7-9 campus they have a wonderful opportunity to develop a culture of service for others through carefully discerning the needs of both the students and wider school community and then working collaboratively to meet those needs. I extend my encouragement and support in the development of their leadership this year.

BISHOP MEETS STUDENT LEADERS
Last week our College Captain Jake Uhlenberg and Liturgy Captain Sharnie Morris had the pleasure of meeting the Bishop of Sale, Christopher Prowse with other student leaders in the Diocese of Sale. As the leader of our faith community Bishop Christopher has the responsibility across the diocese to oversee the preaching of the Gospel and Catholic education in all its forms. Our students leaders returned from their day with our Bishop having been listened to, encouraged and educated in some of the rich traditions and teachings of our Catholic Faith.

PARENTING INFORMATION
During the course of this year you will find regular inserts in the newsletter from the Website of Parenting expert Michael Grose. Parenting in the complex world we live in has never been harder and I think parents will find the advice and information available from this website invaluable.

Thriving Parenting is an exciting new way of parenting. It takes the trial and error, and much of the confusion out of raising kids. There is a large body of research that tells us kids need three things to thrive in this modern changing world of uncertainty. These are:

Confidence, Character & Resilience
They best develop in an environment where parents purposefully adopt principles and techniques that promote these qualities. Nor do these qualities develop independently of each other. The development of one impacts on the others. When kids develop a greater sense of self-confidence they usually behave better and they are more likely to bounce back from setbacks, particularly social injustices.

Confidence
Confident kids take more learning risks and are likely to challenge themselves more than kids who are low on confidence. They are less likely to place limits on themselves or their achievements. Confidence is so crucial today as so many kids are anxious and fear failure.

Character
Character refers to the attitudes and behaviours a child develops that maximise his or her success. Character is about doing what's right, not what's easy! Children need to be resilient. They need to be able to bounce back from life's bigger and smaller setbacks. Resilience is linked with good mental health habits and also with a child's success.

The Thriving! approach gives parents the tools and strategies you need to bring out these three vital ingredients.

YEAR 7 CAMP
This week all year 7 students from the East and West campus will venture to Camp Rumbug at Foster North as part of their transition into St. Peter’s College. The 3 day camp gives them the opportunity to meet other students and staff in a relaxed and fun filled environment. I thank all supervising staff for the enthusiasm they will bring to this task over the week and in particular convey my thanks to Ms Romi Bennett, Ms Jodie Cornell and Ms Rivonia Pereira for their organisation of a great week.

Winter Uniform

Normally the start of Term two also sees the changeover from Summer to Winter Uniform. As Term One is exceptionally shorter this year, we have decided to extend the time in which Summer Uniform is to be worn into the first two weeks of Term Two.

Therefore, the new changeover date from Summer Uniform to Winter Uniform is Monday, 29th of April. For the first two weeks of term two, it is compulsory to still wear Summer Uniform.

2013 National Day of Action Against Bullying and Violence

Please see below some information regarding the Colleges involvement in the related National Day of Action against Bullying and Violence.

Mr Anthony Banks
DEPUTY PRINCIPAL
2013 NATIONAL DAY OF ACTION AGAINST BULLYING AND VIOLENCE

Title: Take a Stand Together

Our school has registered to be part of the National Day of Action Against Bullying and Violence, being held nationwide on Friday 15 March 2013.

The National Day of Action is a day where school communities across Australia, Take a Stand Together against bullying and violence.

St Peters College is dedicated to creating supportive school environments, free from bullying, harassment and violence. By working together at (name of school), we are sending clear messages to young people that bullying and violence, in or outside of school, is not okay - at any time.

The policy at St Peters College is about preventing and educating about Bullying and Harassment

We have a number of programs and initiatives in place. These include: Two Pastoral Sessions per term dealing with students building up their resilience, a Whole School Approach to prevent Bullying and Harassment (including specific Bullying Sessions, a whole school survey and awareness posters).

The National Day of Action Against Bullying and Violence is a major activity organised by Bullying. No Way! (www.bullyingnow.gov.au). The Bullying. No Way! website, created by all Australian education jurisdictions, offers practical resources and information to help schools work together against bullying, harassment and violence.

Students and parents can also download the free iPhone app Take a Stand <http://itunes.apple.com/us/app/take-a-stand/id507931486?mt=8> to keep tips and advice on dealing with bullying close at hand.

Book-in-a-Day 2013

The popular Book-in-a-Day Competition has been postponed this year from the original date of Saturday 16 April 2013 to Saturday 4 May 2013. We hope that this will give us, and the other schools competing, more time to prepare for what has become an important event on the St Peter’s calendar. Catholic College Sale which sent a team to compete last year, reports that they ran so many successful spin-off activities from the competition last year, that they are considering running Book-in-a-Day as an inter-house activity with students from Years 7-11 this year with their own perpetual trophy.

So far St Peter’s College remains undefeated in the competition and we hope to repeat this feat in 2013.

Ms Tracy Lockley

LIBRARY NEWS

East Readarama Roller Coaster Launch-
Happy Reading Year 7!
Today’s students are digitally focused. The average student spends at least four hours daily interacting with their digital gadgets. This digital culture, which has permeated our students’ lives, has brought about a set of changes to their learning habits, some of which are positive while some are negative. The worst is possibly the short attention span, an issue that calls into question students’ capacity for contemplative creative thinking.

When you look at creativity from this perspective, it sheds a lot of light on the debate educational technologists have been having recently over the power of the Internet on students’ brains. Are students getting overwhelmed with an always connected multi-tasking lifestyle? Is that going to lead to less sophisticated thought as they move away from the slower, deeper and contemplative state of reading for instance?

It is very important to remember that a great driver of scientific innovation and technological invention has been the historic increase in connectivity - the ability to reach out and exchange ideas with other people - that has been, more than anything else, the primary engine of creativity and innovation. Yes it is true, students are more distracted when using digital media but what is really miraculous and marvellous is their ability to access a plethora of ways to connect and reach out and find other learners who have that missing piece of information that would complete the idea they are working on. That is the real lesson of where good ideas come from: chance favours the connected mind.

To better cater to the needs of such a group of learners we need to know their expectations. According to a recent study in this regard, today’s students’ expectations include:

- Freedom to choose and express their personal views and individual identities
- Customisation and personalisation of learning
- Scrutiny - the need for detailed, behind-the-scene analysis
- Integrity and openness in their interactions with others
- Entertainment and play to be integrated into their work, learning and social life
- Collaboration and relationships to be a vital part of what they do.
- Speed in communications, getting information, and getting responses to questions and messages
- Innovation in their lives

Catering To 21st Century Needs

Now that we know what students expect, how are we going to personalise their learning and make them perform better while respecting their mind sets? Obviously, a one-size-fits-all factory model and one-way broadcast approach to learning does not work well for these students. Trilling and Fadel made five key findings that may help guide and reshape learning to meet our students’ needs:

1. Create more authentic learning experiences. Students need more real-world problem solving, internships in real work settings.
2. Allow mental model building, students should be put into situations that incorporate new experiences that change their views over time.
3. Create lessons that have an emotional connection to what is being learned.
4. Create more personalised learning opportunities for students. Differentiate!
5. Embed social learning into lessons. Online communication is an option.

The 21st Century Skills Students Need

After this brief analysis of the expectations and the ways we can cater to students’ learning needs, we need to know what the skills are most important to their learning. Of course, as education is changing, so are the skills teachers need to focus on. The skills the 20th century students needed to develop during their schooling were different from the ones of the 21st century.

This article was sourced from:

New Directions in ICT for St Peter’s

To allow students to develop these sorts of skills St. Peter’s College has been considering directions in the area of Information and Communication Technology (ICT). Over the past few months, staff at the College, have been testing a number of different computers looking at possible devices for a student laptop program and how these may be implemented in the coming years. We are currently looking at two possible models of implementation.

- The first, is a device that is lightweight, portable and cost effective whilst ensuring the best educational outcomes. Families will be offered flexible payment options for the purchase of this device.
- The second, a model where students bring their own device, which conforms to criteria set by the college, and use it to connect into the college network.

Please check this newsletter over the coming months and we will endeavour to keep you informed of how the testing goes.

SIS SENIOR GIRLS SOCCER VS PADUA

With numerous players sidelined due to VCE ‘commitments’, glamour girl Machaya strutted to the centre circle like she was parading on a Paris catwalk with a depleted team behind her perhaps lacking in a touch of confidence. After going 1-0 down, the girls showed great character and equalised before the break with a goal from Dakic. With the wind advantage in the second half, we dominated and began to create chance after chance. Top Guns Dakic and Nguyen both were guilty of wasting easy opportunities and it looked as though we would never score. At last however, Nguyen finally hit the target and we secured a 2-1 victory. The final match next week away at St John’s will be a top of the table decider and the girls will have to raise their performance another level.

BOY’S INTERMEDIATE EUROPEAN HANDBALL

Saint Peter’s beat John Paul College in a very fast and exciting game 23 to 15. After a loss in round one the team regrouped and with a change in the line up up forward we were quick to get on the scoreboard. Austin Faamasuli, Jayden Sullivan and Chris Doria made the most of opportunities and were our top goal scorers. Ryley Letele got the whole backline organised and stopped many attempts on goal. Ryley was our best player for the second week in a row.

MACKILLOP HOUSE NEWS

HOUSE V HOUSE COMPETITIONS

The 2013 House Competitions began with a flying start last Thursday. MacKillop House organised a Trivia Competition during lunch time which was attended by close to 120 students. The talented Forum Representative had prepared Music Trivia together with Sport and General Knowledge questions. While there was fierce and close competition during the four lunchtime rounds, in the end Glowery House finished at the top of the table and were our overall winners. The secret to Glowery’s success was the overwhelming return of all quizzes distributed in the morning Tutor Groups. Congratulations to Glowery for their awesome participation rate. Thanks you to all those who attended. We look forward to the next round of competition – Bring it on!

Ms. Jorgensen
MACKILLOP HOUSE LEADER
The year has begun in a busy but positive fashion for all of the staff and students in Glowrey House. In our second year of the House system, we have all grown closer to one another and have enjoyed welcoming our new students and year 7’s into our family! Congratulations to all of the students who competed and participated in the House Swimming Carnival. We had students in the pool and others leading a great cheer squad. Congratulations to all of our SIS swimmers who will be featured in the next Glowrey newsletter report! It was fantastic to see the spirit of participation amongst the students and staff at the recent inter House Trivia challenge. The outcome – Trivia Champions for 2013!! Well done!!

Here is our House Captains Update:

For us, being in year 12 has been a major transition from year 11, as it is the start of a lifetime journey. This year will bring a lot of struggles and hard work; fortunately it will all be worth it in the end. As being House Captains of Glowrey we have accepted and embraced this leadership role. Being in this position, we have seen first hand the friendly and positive attitudes of the members of Glowrey house. The swimming carnival this year displayed ample amounts of participation and positive enthusiastic attitudes towards house spirit as well as our strong swimming abilities. Not only are we full of house spirit, we are also intelligent, winning the Lunch time competition. The most important thing we could say to our younger students of Glowrey, is to stay positive, confident, and strive for your best. (Audrey Lon Ho Kee and Matt Blackburn – Glowrey House Captains)

At our recent House assembly we presented the following students with their Forum Leader badges:

Congratulations to these students who have already been hard at work planning fundraising activities for Project Compassion. I am sure that they are going to be excellent representatives for each of the Tutor Groups.

Just a reminder to all Glowrey House parents; A sheet was sent home with students last week with contact details of House staff members and other staff you may need to contact at the College. Please do not hesitate to your son/daughters Learning Advisor, or myself, at any time should you have any concerns.

I think it would be fair to say that Lenten Meditations have got a fair bit of competition this year. The closing of Pope Benedict’s Papacy and the approaching Conclave are occupying the minds of most of us at present. There are many very significant issues awaiting the next Pope which will affect the future of the Catholic Church in the way they are resolved.

I think it would be a good time for parents of our senior students, especially those studying Religion and Society, to discuss with them what they would wish for from a new Pope. The students may not have a clear idea, or indeed any interest in what goes on in Vatican corridors but they will have views on issues of daily life, moral questions. It is very beneficial for all concerned to talk about the issues of the day. What does binge drinking or under age drinking have to do with being a Catholic? What does a Catholic have to say about the present debate concerning asylum seekers living in society? Some people might be surprised to learn that students could contribute well to a discussion on the moral issues facing society but how often do we ever ask the question or sit down and talk about where we stand on current policies?

Certainly the new Pope will shape the future of the Church, but what about the future of our children and the families of the future? As parents we owe it to our children to encourage them to develop an enquiring mind and to be able to understand different points of view and to articulate their own views. The groundwork for this happens at school but the home is a great place to hone these skills in a safe atmosphere.

Most newspapers are reporting on the various Cardinals who have a possibility of election as Pope, have you talked about what they might bring to the Papacy? Have you had an informed discussion on the Parliamentary Inquiry? The more we talk about these things the more we realise that they do have a place in our daily lives and also that our children have views worth listening to.

A Prayer of Thanks and Hope
Most Holy Spirit of God,
We give you thanks for guiding Pope Benedict
In his ministry as shepherd of the Church.
We pray that he may be able to use his retirement well and fruitfully.
The Church and the World look to you
Holy Spirit for guidance and clarity at this time
Of waiting for the election of a Pope to lead the Catholic Church.
May the Cardinals draw upon your guidance deeply as they discern the best course of action in the coming days of seclusion in the Conclave.
Holy Spirit of God lead us always.
Amen
